

LADY CHEVELEY; OR, THE WOMAN OF HONOR—Philadelphia—Carry & Hart. We recently noticed, in terms of condemnation, Ludy Bulwer's novel, which has called forth a philippic in rhyme (from London) which has it is just received, we can only briefly notice. The poem consists of about four hundred lines, and has a few introductory remarks, justly severe upon the author of Cheveley, and so highly encomnastic of Bulwer humself, as to preclude the probable idea that the work is from his pen. Passion it has been remarked, is always chaquent; and of the satire before us, it may be said that the sympathy of the writer in the cause of Sir Edward, clears in many passages, toreible in thought and chaste in diction. The poem commences with an sportophe to the "Daughter of England." to visit upon the author of Cheveley the penulty of their scorn and aversion.

"Then, if you spure her not with one neclaim, You share her matchless sin, her deathless shame."

"Then, if you spurn her not with one acclaim,
You share her matchiless sin, her deathless shame." Ridicul- of Cheveley as a literary production, forms part of the angry song, and a description personal, moral and intellectual of the Baronet and his lady, occupies a large portion of the text. We an-

Date a specimen:

One evening to his lonely home he here
A wreath tike that immortal Shakapeare wore!

And o'er his solitude the echo come.
Of shouts of triumph, mingled with his name!
And we may deem, his eyes were full of tears—
How cold the triumph which no loved one shares!

Bulwer's morality, notwithstanding all the flourish of his poetic champion, is roundly denied in the private circles of London. Were every suspicion true, however, the violations of good taste and deli-champion, is roundly denied in the private circle of Lonnon. diclicarry supicion true, however, the violations of good taste and delicacy which Cheveley displayed, can find in it no apology. A we man of refinement and native modesty would veil her husband's failings not less instinctively than her own errors.

These are the concluding lines of the poem:

See, from thy waning charms hase faiteers fly,
Read! trad! thy shame in each averted eye,
Behold th' invitable hour is come!

When women's scene of huppiness is home!

Crushed 'neath the mount of curses, thou hast piled!

Wesp for the home thy felschood has defited!

Yet list! the muse shall reach thee where to find
The only solace of the guilty mind!

Glad tidings greet the trembling heirs of sin;
Ah, who has said, 'compel them to come in!'

Oh, seek, thou false one! through long after years,
To wash this stain in penileutial lears!
Then to thy husband's feet, if there forgiven,
May pitying angels plead for thee in Heaven!

The many who have dropped a tear over the pathos of Bulwer's fictions, will perhaps pay the same tribute to the sorrows which are depicted as his own. Wherever the first fault may have been, the

R. F. & P. RAILROAD CO.

At a general meeting of the Stockholders in the Rich mond Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company, beld on Monday, the 27th day of May, 1839:
The Report of the President and Directors having been read, on motion of Mr. Conway Robinson,

Resolved. That so much of the report as relates to the extension of the Railroad from Fredericksburg to the Potomac, and the act directing the State's guarantee to be given to a loan for that purpose, be referred to a committee to examine terms and conditions upon which the guarantee is authorized, and report such measures as in their opinion it may be proper for the Company to adopt in relation to the said act, and the extension of The chair appointed Conway Robinson, James Lyons, and Samuel Marks, Esq., the said com

And at an adjourned meeting of the Stockholders afore said, held on Tuesday afternoon, May 25th, 1839, Mr Conway Robinson from the Committee on that part of the report of the President and Directors which relates to the extension of the Railroad from Fredericksburg to the Potomac, and the act directing the State's guarantee to be given to a loan for that purpose, made the following Report:
The Committee to whom was referred so much of the report as relates to the extension of the Railroad from Fredericksburg to the Potomac, and the act directing the State's guarantee to be given to a loan for that purpose, respectfully submit the following report:

At an early period the Stockholders declared that they deemed it advisable to extend the Railroad from the point of termination in Frederick-burg to the Potomac river, or some of its creeks, so as to form a complete Railroad and Steamboat line Before, however, the extension could be made the Common wealth, who was herself a large Streekholder, indicates by her legre lation a doubt as to the policy of the measure. If is gretitying to find from the act above mentioned, that such doubt any longer exists, and the Common Stockholders in carrying on the work. In this point of view, independently of any other, the act affinds cause of gratulation, and whether or no the Stockholders shall give their assent to the change in their charter which the act contemplates, it should serve to confirm them in their purpose, and lead them to take such measures for prosecuting the work as are sutherised by the existing charter, and may be found practicable.

Upon examination of the act in question, it is found to contain the following provino: That before the guar antee shall be given by the Treasurer, "the Stockholders in general meeting shall direct their President and Directors to pledge the profits upon the stock of the Company held by subscribers, other than the Common wealth, or so much thereof as may be necessary to the punctual payment of the principal and interest on the ertificates of debt issued under authority of this act. If the proviso be construed according to its literal interpretation, it is certainly objectionable. There is no dis-tinction known to our charter between the stock raised to make the road from Richmond to Fredericksburg, and that raised for the work from Fredericksburg to the Po tomac Every Stockholder is interested in the income whole line from Richmond to the Potomac and the benefit of the improvement from Fredericksburg to the Potomac will be felt by the Commonwealth more than by any individual Stockholder For she will feel in increased dividends, not only upon her stock in this Company, but also upon the large amount of stock held by her in the Railroads south of us, from Richmond to the Roanoke. In no point of view can it be right that the Commonwealth should enjoy this be pefit in common with the individual Stockholders, with out sharing the burthen which they are to bear. If the income to arise from the work from Fredericksburg to the Potomac, is to swell the Commonwealth's dividends, it can never be right, that the interest upon the cost of that work should be exclusively paid out of the profits upon the stock of individuals. It being plain, that it would work manifest injustice to construe this act according to its letter, we are inclined to think that the intention of the Legislature must have been different. Our impression is, that if the act should be ac cepted, the money borrowed, and the road built, the proper course would be to pay out of the income upon the whole line from Richmond to the Potomac-let The expenses of conducting the business; and 2dly The interest upon all loans, whether those loans should be for constructing one part of the line or another; and then 3dly. To divide the nett profits remaining amongst all the Stockholders, as well individuals as the Comm wealth, in proportion to the amount paid upon the stock of each Stockholder. Believing this to have been the real intention of the Legislature, it seems to us, that there will not probably be any serious difficulty in obtaining from the General Assembly at its next session, a suitable amendatory act.

present charter, the Company is allowed to charge for the transportation of the mail such sum

If the Company accept the provisions of the act, it is then to be subject to the 36th section of the act prescribing regulations for the incorporation of Railroad Com-panies, which provides that "it shall be competent to the General Assembly to provide by law for the transporta tion of the United States' mail over any Railroad, for a fair and adequate compensation, and to provide the means of ascertaining such compensation." The whole income which has so far been received from the mail. passengers and freight, has yielded but moderate divi dends to the Commonwealth upon her stock, and to the individual Stockholders upon theirs In regard to the mail service, we are informed by the report of the Pre sident and Directors, that the Company has not yet been able to obtain from the Post Office Department for carry ing the mail at any hour, which may be prescribed by the department, whether day or night, a compensation equal to that paid the companies North of Washington City, for carrying the mail in the day time, at certain specified hours agreed upon between those companies and the department. That it ought to receive service, seems but just and reasonable; and if the condition had this qualification annexed to it, that the Company should not be compelled to receive less, we do not perceive that there would be any just ground of objection to it.

By the present charter, all machines, wagons, vehicle and carriages, purchased with the funds of the Compa-ny, and all other works constructed under the authority of the act, and all profits which shall accure from the the act, and all profits which shall accrue from the same, are exempt from any public charge or tax what-seever. But if, at any time hereafter, the rates of toll allowed shall enable the President and Directors, after the payment of all necessary expenses, and after se ting spart a fair and resemable sum for the renewal and repairs of the road, warehouses, depots, and other constructions, and of the machines, cars, and other ve-bicles for transportation, to divide more than fifteen per cent on their capital stock invested, then the rates of toll are to be so reduced by the President and Directors, as to enable them to divide fifteen per cent., and no more

- If the Company accept the provisions of the act in question, it is on condition that the Legislature shall are the right to tax the stock and property of the Company but with this limitation, that he tax shall at any time be imposed on the stock of the Company, exceeding the provision of stock of the Company, exceeding the provisions of the heathern of stock of the company of the provisions of the heathern of the provisions ing on each share of stock the sum that, at the time of levying the tax, shall be imposed on each hundred dollars worth of land in this Commonwealth, seconding to $44.000 the ad valurem axation of lands, nor on any other property of the Company, except its lands, houses, slaves, and horses, upon which the tax assessed is in to case to exceed that assessed upon like property held by individuals. The reservation of a right to tax lands, houses, slaves and horses, as well as to lax the stock, may very properly be objected to in this, that the money paid by a stockholder upon his chares of stock, is applied to the purchase of the lands, houses, slaves and horses; and if the same individual is charged a tax upon his stock, and also upon the subject procured by it, he is taxed twice upon the same thing.

If the terms and conditions of the act in question, af fected only citizens of the Commonwealth, our anxious desire to see the improvement made, and our confidence that the Legislature would afford relief against such pro visions of the act as operate harshly, might have great influence upon our course. But there are Stockholders to a large amount, residing out of the State, and chiefly the city of Philadeiphia. These residents of Philadelphia. delphia, invested their capital under a charter of a par ticular character, and it is understood, that they are unanimously opposed to the changes in the charter which the late act contemplates. We do not think it would be correct in principle, or consistent with sound policy, even if we had the power to compel them, after getting a large amount of their money under one charter, to accept another of a very different character We do not think it would be right to compel them to this, when we are distinctly informed, and perfectly satisfied, that, if at the time of their subscription, the charter had contained such provisions as are in reduced into the late act, they never would have become subscribers. Under such circumstances, the wisest and the best Course seems to us to be, not at this time to act finally upon the question of accepting or rejecting the act, but to leave the subject open, under a hope that the General Assembly will, at its next session, make such modifica tions of its provisions, as will remove the strong objections to the act which are now felt by the Stockholders out of the Commonwealth, and make it more satisfactory also to our own citizens son ought not to be entirely lost.

At the last annual meeting, the President and Directors stated in their report, that it did not seem to them, that it would be advisable to commence the work, until the land owners, who would be benefitted by it, should have given relinquishments of damages on fair terms. We are informed that, during the last Summer, notices were given to all the land owners for the appointment of commissioners to assess the damages on the route from Fredericksburg to Aquia Creek; and that in the Fall damages were assessed on the whole route; but that the as ressments then made, have not yet been acted on. We think the President should have them acted upon, and this part of the business brought to a close as soon as practicable. Besides doing this we think that to ensure the completion of the bridge across the Rappatiannock, as soon as the graduation can be done upon the line, the Board should cause the piers to be erected for the bridge during the present season; and if there be any other work that will require more than the average time, and not involve a large expenditure, should cause such work to be done. It seems to us, there can be no difficulty in off-cting this much, at all events-because, if the means should be wanting, the money that would otherwise be applicable to the fall dividend, can, if necessary, be temperacely used for the purpose and scrip issued for the payment of the same to the Stockholders, with interest, at such time as would suit the convenience of the Com

We would not, however, be understood as desiring to restrict the President and Directors to this fund. They have power under the act of incorporation to borrow money for the purpose of carrying on the work, and to issue certificates, or other evidence, of any loan which may be made. Should they find it practicable to borrow to the extent required, on fair terms, they will no doubt deem it more expedient to do so, than to appropriate the dividend fund.

And the question being taken upon agreeing to the the same was adopted by the vote of the said report, the same was adopted by the vote of the individual Stockholders without division or dissent; the proxy for the Board of Public Works having declined

BAPTIST GENERAL ASSOCIATION. Last week the Baptist Church held its anniversary meeting, known as a "General Association," in our City It drew among us a number of unostentatious, respectable and intelligent looking citizens from abroad It was a period of pleasure with them-the meeting of brethren enlisted in the great cause of moral improvement and the greater cause of the perpetual salvation of man. Much activity and zeal was exhibited—and the condition of the Church as reported by the delegates from offerent sections was flattering to the cause of religar n. We wish them, and all like them engaged in exercise the influences of religion, success. May they together pressel from the rivers to the end of the earth. An immirer if the exception differ about the cut of the entel er the meating of ear rings. &c , about sprinkling as management this or the other ceremony or form Creator only judges them by the grand mate object they are striving to obtain wice, and there is employment more than enough for all the laborers

The anniversary meetings of the Baptist denomina tion in this State, have just closed. They have been numerously attended:—the Ministers and Delegates amounting to about 160 The services were commenced on Friday evening last, in the Second Baptist Church, with an appropriate and interesting sermon from the Rev. R Bahcock, D. D. of Philadelphia. On Saturday morning, the General Association was called to order by the Moderator, Elder J B Taylor This is a Missionary body, whose labors are confined to the State -To assist feeble Churches in supporting pasters, and to send the Gospel to destitute and neglected regions, are its benevolent designs At 11 o'clock, the annual ser men was delivered before the Association and a numer ous auditory, by Elder Robt Ryland, A M , Principal of the Baptist Seminary. This Discourse, on the Excellenwas heard with profound attention, and deep emotion.

—It was solicited for publication, and a large edition will be immediately printed and circulated among the Churches During the past year, the Association had in her employment 20 Missionaries, laboring, many of them, West of the Blue Ridge. The sum of about $5,000 was paid into its treasury. This institution, or ganized 17 years ago, by the lamented Dr. Semple, and his worthy comperts, has been steadily advancing in influence and usefulness. It has, for the present year. appointed 25 Missionaries; and it is expected that others will be sent to make the solitary places rejoice and be

At 4 o'clock, P M., the Virginia Baptist Foreign Missionary Society convened. The Hon Hemon Lincoln, Treasurer of the Baptist General Convention, was prevented, by indisposition, from addressing the meeting; but the disappointment was alleviated by a speech from the Rev. Dr Babcock, in which he enforced the obliga tions of Christians to send the Gospel to the Heathen in a manner interesting and impressive. It appeared from the Report of the Board, that the Parent Society of the Baptist General Convention, is extensively and suc cessfully engaged in publishing the Gospel in the four quarters of the Earth. The Churches in Virginia cherish a lively interest in the Foreign Missionary enter-prize. The contributions for this object during the year amounted to $8 000.

In the evening, in the Second Baptist Church, the Annual Education Sermon was preached by Elder Wm Southwood of Petersburg. It was worthy of the occasion. It was replete with just and elevated views on the subject of Ministerial Education. It will be furnished by the author for publication; and its circulation cannot fail to promote the interests of learning

On the Sabbath, the pulpite of the Methodist and Presbyterian, as well as the Baptist Churches, were occupied the Ministers in attendance on the Anniversaries. Multitudes attended, and great attention and seriousness characterised the assemblies. On Monday morning, at 11 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church, the Education Society convened. This meeting was expected with lively interest, nor was the From the Report of the Board, we learned that the Seminary under its charge was in a flourishing state. It contains upwards of sixty students, ten of whom are preparing for the Ministry Some of the specches on this occasion were of thrilling interest. The Society is nearly out of debt, and a permanent fund, amounting already to 4 or $5,000, has been commenced A committee was appointed to solicit from the next Legislature a charter for the Institution | Its friends contemplate its gradual enlargement and endowment -The denomination are fully able, and from the spirit of liberality and enterprize which they manifest, we should think, equally willing, to make it a commanding and valuable Institution.

In the afternoon, a Sunday School and Tract Meeting was held The claims of these institutions were powerfully enforced. It is designed to enlarge the operations of the Baptist General Tract Society, located in Philadelphia. It will hereafter issue bound volumes, particularly such as relate to the doctrinal peculiarities, and the history of the denomination. Dr. Babcock procured, during the meetings, subscriptions to the amount On Monday night the Monthly Concert of Prayer for Missions was held with the 2d and 3d Baptist churches. It was pleasant to unite with the prous of every name, and of every land, in fervent supplications to Almighty God, for the universal spread of light and peace

On Tuesday morning the Virginia and Foreign Bap tist Bible Society celebrated its third Anniversary—the attendance was numerous notwithstanding the incle mency of the weather. This Society originated in a de cision of the American Bible Society, by which the ver-sions made by Baptist Missionaries, in which the term Baptizo and its kindred words were translated by terms | buildings to plan, contracts to make, officers to elect, an

Thus closed a series of most interesting meetings — The weather was, in general, fine; the deliberations were characterized by great harmony and fraternal affec-tion; no unkind word was heard; no unloomly emotion was displayed; the addresses were mostly sensible, eloquent and interesting, and the devotional exercises solemn and impressive. The meetings were full of pro-mise. The denomination, first in number in this State, and great in resources are beginning to awake to a sense of their responsibilities, and to put forth their en ergies in carnest, for the diffusion of light, and the pro motion of the Redeemer's Kingdom. What they have done may be considered as only an earnest of what they will do

The contributions of the Churches of all their Bene colent Institutions, including $3 000 to the American Baptist Home Missionary Society, amount to upwards of $30,000; besides the sum of $10,000 bequeathed for the same objects

The next Anniversary Meetings will commence in this city, on Thursday evening preceding the first Sab bath in June, 1840 - Compiler, June 10.

The stockholders of the Farmers' Bank of Virginia, at the late General Meeting, accepted the provisions of the act extending the charter and increasing the capital; but to express their sense of the evil tendency of the new restrictions introduced into the charter, they paserd a resoluit presented to the General Assembly for relief object will be to have the law so amended as that the community at large may not be deprived of the important facilities heretofore derived from the Bank. that the stockholders may be allowed a fair profit un their capital Every interest in the State, and the whole State, is undoubtedly interested not only in continning the Banking facilities hitherto enjoyed, but in enlarging them so as that they may be commensurate with the increased and increasing activity of our agriculture, commerce and manufactures. And as the Commonwealth, by the subscription for additional stock the Treasurer is directed to make, will add greatto to her already great interest in the institution, it cant be supposed the Legislature will hesitate to admit of alterations demanded alike by the general interest and the just claims of the stockholders-the State and

(From the Staunton Spectator of June 6) WESTERN LUNATIC HOSPITAL .- At the annual meeting of the Court of Directors of the Western Lunatio Hospital, held on Saturday last, we had the gratification to witness the discharge of three more patients from the institution as cured—one male, and two female. Two others were also discharged, as the subjects of harmless dementia - a class of patients which (if they have not friends to take care of them, as was the case in one of the instances mentioned) would be just as well in an aims house, where they could be supported at a much less cost to the public. Their cases are utterly hopeless, and he ing under no necessity of restraint, they certainly ought not to be retained in the institution, in the present limited means of accommodation, to the exclusion of any who might be benefitted. We understand that there are seversi other patients in a hopeful state of recovery, whose discharge the Physician expects soon to be able commend. The reputation which the institution is acquiring by its cures, we are gratified to find is attracting to it an increasing number of patients from the wealthier classes of our citizens, which as their support is paid for, tend to diminish the public charges of the institution .-These, in former years, were uniformly sent to the North ern asylums. The number of patients of this description is now quite considerable, and there is every probability that they will increase with the growing character of the

mistry and Pharmacy.
The College Infirmary, attached to the College Build.

ing, has been in successful operation for the last eight months, and furnishes constantly a number of interesting Medical and Surgical cases-to which the student has access at all hours. The College Infirmary, together with the Aims House Penitenciary and Armory, (which are under the charge of two of the Professors,) will afford the student an ep. portunity of witnessing the various diseases incident to Southern climate. The abundance of materials for Anatomical purposes, and the reduced price at which hey are furnished, will enable the student to acquire an intimate knowledge of the Anatomy of the human body, and the use of Surgical Instruments.

During the last Winter Course of Lectures, from the number of Surgical Cases admitted into the latingare, the Professor of Surgery was enabled to exhibit before the class, nearly all the important Surgical operations upon the living subject; and from the growing popularity of the Infirmary, there is reason to believe that hereafter the Surgical Cases in the House, will greatly increase. Good Board, including fuel, lights, servants' attendance, &c , can be obtained in this city for four dollars per week. We are authorized to state that a full Course of Lec. tures in this Institution will be received as equivalent to one in the following Medical Schools: University of Pennsylvanis; Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia; Medical College of the State of South Carolina; Transylvanis University, Lexington, Ky; University of Maryland, &c., &c.

The Professor of Anatomy will open the Dissecting Rooms of the College on the first of October AUG'S L. WARNER, M. D. Dean of the Medical Faculty.

RICHMOND, May 24th, 1839. FAUQUIER WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS. Till E crowds that have visited these Springs, and the general satisfaction expressed, have encouraged the Company to make extensive improvements since

Besides enlarging the accommodations very much, in other respects, the former Bath House will be found greatly improved, and fornished with a copious supply of hot and cold Sulphur and Free Stone Water, and a new and elegant edifice, upon the most approved plan, will be ready by the 1st of July, and be equal, it is hoped, to any Bathing Establishment in our Country Without prefending to vie with the unequalled Warm Spring Bath, the temperature of that celebrated fountain is at the option of the visitors, either in the centre plung. ing bath, or in the 14 private rooms which surround in-the whole being enclosed within the Octagon Gothic exterior, whose minarets and spires indicate the determi-nation of the company to please the fancy and graitly the tastes of the invalids, as well as the votaries of pleasure.

The extraordinary virtues of the waters, proved moc-merous instances—the salubrity of the country around, in full view of the mountains, supplying the forest meats, vegetables and fruits-its ready access to the seaboard, being within 50 miles of the District of Columbis and 35 of Fredericksburg-the riegant ball room, adorned with new magnificent chandeliers and resounding with the strains of a most delightful band of music-the extensive buildings-the noble portico- the improved grounds and shady walks, refreshed with jets d'eau, present attractions to the people which it will not overlock. To secure the best wines, liquors, attendants and sec-vants, every attention has been paid. The roads have been improved. A costly bridge over the Rappahannock within a few hundred yards of the Spring, is in rapid progress to completion New and elegant stages run daily between Washington City and the Springs, leaving each place early in the morning, and arriving at the Springs at 4 o'clock, and at Washington in time for the Baltimore cars of the same day. This line continues to Louisa Courthouse dails branching at Orange Courthouse and running the to Charlottesville. It leaves the Springs at Fin the morning, and runs that evening to Louisa and Charlottesville.

There will also be a daily line of all Fredericksburg by to Winchester.

There will also be a daily line by to Winchester, to the Springs, and thence tri we sky to Winchester. The Springs will be ready of the reception of company on the 15th of June. On the 4th of July, the Declaration of Independence will be read, and at the estimation of the Company, Mr. Jino S. Pendleton, nest solicitation of the Company, Mr. Jino S. Pendleton, the distinguisher delegate from Rappahannock, has consented to delegate from Rappahannock, has consented to delegate attractions of the occasion. May 24 [5-tf] DANIEL WARD. Shannondule Springs, in Jefferson county, Va., 5 miles from Charlestown FEXIIIS agreeable and beautiful Watering Place is now prepared to receive Visiters The Company have recently made various improvements suggested by the experience of their first season. The accommodations of the last year being found insufficient for the number of visiters, extensive additions have been made to the buildings, and the whole establishment otherwise improved and embellished. Besides the W rm Baths, which will be much improved, large Flanting Baths are being constructed, calculated to furnish the most delightful river bathing both for ladies and gentlemen. The surpassing beauty of these Springs, situated on a great bend of the majestic Shenandoah River, at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountain, as well as the long established superiority of the waters, need not again be more than adverted to. These, together with its great facility of access from Baltimore, Philadelphia, the District. Ac., by Railroad and Canal, render it one of the most agreeable, healthful and convenient resorts during the heats of Snowner Competent Managers, Servants, Music. Pleasure and Fishing Boats, &c, are provided, and the Company as-sure the public that no effort or expense will be spared to render their Establishment equal to any other, either for genteel accommodation, rational amusement, or healthful enjoyment.

These Springs are reached in a day's ride from Baltimore or Washington, by the Railroad to Charlestown, from which place comfortable Coaches with safe drivets and horses, belonging to the Company, will convey travel lers to the Springs, a distance of 5 miles over an easy road and through a most beautiful and fertile country, arriving there before sunset
